Treasure Collection by Amy Cushing

Chateau in Rochefort-sur-Loire, France

Treasure Collection is our first range of mirrors produced in collaboration with the glass artist and designer Amy Cushing. Bringing to fruition a long standing desire held by the artist, to create mirrors based on a gem stone configuration.

Cushing has become one of London's most creative designers, carving a unique niche for herself with her unparalleled understanding of fused glass combined with her intuitive sense of colour.

Comprising of three initial designs, Treasure Collection is aimed for luxury interiors and discerning collectors and are handcrafted & engineered in the UK. Each piece is a sumptuous union of richly hued anodized aluminium, industrial tinted mirror juxtaposed with highly coloured, luxuriously detailed signature handmade glass created by Cushing.

Fusing quality production with irresistible glamour, the aluminium frame is milled to create recesses in which the glass elements are embedded, this seamless unity of materials avoids the need for joinery, enhancing the elegance of each piece.

The careful placement of colour gives each palette its own dynamic yet all three mirrors are cohesive as a collection. They can be grouped in a variety of sequences to create various installations, with bespoke variations in size and colour also possible, these are perfect for personalised individual projects.
